DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12, drawn to an adsorbent composition, classified in class 502, subclass 67.
 - II. Claims 13-23, drawn to a separation process, classified in class 95, subclass 90+.
 - III. Claim 24, drawn to catalytic conversion of organic compounds, classified in class 585, subclass 1+.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of use, such as the catalytic conversion of organic compounds. The claims of Group III provide evidence that the product can be used in a materially different process of use.

3. Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of use, the separation of nitrogen from oxygen. The claims of Group II provide evidence that the product can be used in a materially different process of use.

4. Inventions II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are different processes which are not used together and have different functions, different modes of operations, and different effects.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. Additionally, if Applicant elects Group II, an election of species is required: This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species A: Process for drying a gaseous feed stream;

Species B: Process for adsorption of carbon dioxide from an air stream;

Species C: Process for the removal of water from a gaseous or liquid ethanol stream;

Species D: Process for the separation of nitrogen and oxygen from air;

Species E: Process for the removal of sulfur and oxygen containing compounds from a hydrocarbon stream;

Species F: Process for the removal of carbon monoxide, carbon dioxide, and nitrogen from a hydrogen gas stream;

Species G: Process for the removal of water from a gaseous or liquid hydrocarbon stream;

Species H: Process to separation n-paraffins from iso-paraffin/n-paraffin mixture;

Species I: Process for the removal of water from refrigerants;

Species J: Process for the removal of water and carbon dioxide from air.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claim 13 is generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Christina Ildebrando whose telephone number is (703) 305-0469. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday, 7:30-5, with Alternate Fridays off.
